2.4 Limitations

1. Initial Technical Complexity

Developing and maintaining a multi-role platform (user, seller, wholesaler, admin) can be complex and time-consuming.

2. Internet Dependency

Both buyers and sellers require reliable internet access to use the platform effectively.

3. Data Privacy Concerns

Handling sensitive data (such as user info, transactions) requires strong security measures, or it may face trust issues.

4. Logistics Not Included

Delivery and shipping of products may require third-party services, which can add complications.

5. Lack of Out-of-Stock Indication and Wishlist Notifications

The website does not currently highlight out-of-stock products in red or send notifications to users when a product from their wishlist becomes available. Many platforms include this feature to enhance user experience by keeping them informed about product availability.

6. Competition with Big Platforms

Competing with large platforms like Amazon or Flipkart can be challenging in terms of visibility and trust.

7. User Adaptation

Some local or home-based sellers may not be tech-savvy and might need training or support to use the platform.

3.Environment Specification

3.1 Hardware and Software Specification

3.1.1 Software Specification

Given below is recommended specification of required software to develop the system:

Operating System	Microsoft Windows / Linux / macOS
Front End	HTML , CSS , JavaScript , Ajax , JQuery , BootStrap
Back End	PHP , PHP Mailer
Server	XAMMP , LAMP , WAMP
Database	MySQL

3.1.2 Hardware Specification

Given below is recommended hardware specification that required at client side to run software :

Processor	Intel Core i3 or higher
Memory	4 GB or Above
Hard Disk	512 GB or above
Operating System	Any compatible OS

4. System Plannig

Before starting a software project, it is essential to determine the tasks to be performed and properly manage the allocation of responsibilities among individuals involved in the software development . Hence, planning is important as it results in effective software development.

Project planning is an organized and integrated management process, which focuses on activities required for successful completion of the project. It prevents obstacles that arise in the project such as changes in projects or organization's objectives, non-availability of resources, and so on. Project planning also helps in better utilization of resources and optimal usage of the allotted time for a project.

The objectives of project planning are listed below.

- It defines the roles and responsibilities of the project management team members.
- It ensures that the project management team works according to the business objectives.
- It checks feasibility of the schedule and user requirements.
- It determines project constraints

4.1. Requirement Analysis and Data Gathering

The Homemade Heaven project is designed as an online shopping platform to meet the needs of customers looking for home-based and locally made products. It aims to support small businesses by offering a user-friendly system for product browsing, ordering, and seller management.

The success of any system depends largely on how effectively the requirements are gathered and analyzed. A well-defined requirement analysis gives direction to system analysts and developers, helping them design a functional and efficient platform.

To gather requirement for online shopping system, following steps were carried out:

- We referred similar website to get an idea of how website should look a like.
- We also took help from our classmate, faculty and principal to resolve some errors.
- We also consult senior Project for technical problems.
- We also visit to website for system.

4.2 Feasibility Study

When we are developing the system (software), we must know whether the proposed system will be feasible or can be practically implemented or not. It may be possible that the proposed system cannot be implemented due to many reasons like it may take a longer time in development than the specified time limit, or the cost may increase beyond the proposed one, etc. Therefore, we must analyze the feasibility of the system.

Feasibility is the analysis of risks, costs , & benefits relating to economics, technology , & user operation.

There are several types of feasibility depending on the aspect they cover.

Some important feasibility types are as follows: -

- Technical Feasibility
- Operational Feasibility
- Economic Feasibility

4.2.1 Technical feasibility

The technical feasibility study basically centers on alternatives for hardware, software , and design approach to determine the functional aspects of the system.

The web application has been developed with PHP and MySQL server as backend tools.

MySQL Server will be used for storing data. Hardware requirements used are compatible with all OS. Only authorized persons would be able to use the website , so it would be secure. The system can also be expanded as per the needs of the requirement specification.

4.2.2 Operational Feasibility

Operational Feasibility is a measure of how people can work with the system. This type of feasibility demands whether the system will work when developed and installed. Since website is very user friendly, so users will find it comfortable to work on this site.

4.2.3 Economic Feasibility

Economic analysis is the most frequently used method for evaluating the effectiveness of a proposed system, more commonly known as Benefit analysis. The Benefit analysis aims is to determine benefits and savings which are expected from the candidate system and compare them with the cost.

If the benefits are more than the cost, then a decision is made to design and implement the system. The cost and benefits may be direct or indirect and tangible or intangible.

4.3 Risk Analysis

Security Assessment and Risk Categories:

The security posture of Homemade Heaven must be continuously assessed to ensure safe and reliable usage by vendors and customers. The following key risk categories are considered in the security assessment:

Data Security Risk

Since Homemade Heaven deals with sensitive user data (names, addresses, orders), there is a risk of data breaches if proper encryption and access controls are not in place.

Payment and Transaction Risk

As the platform includes online payments, it must protect against payment fraud, unauthorized access, and transaction manipulation.

Sellers and Customer Trust Risk

Ensuring the authenticity of sellers and maintaining reliable reviews are crucial to uphold the platform's reputation and customer trust.

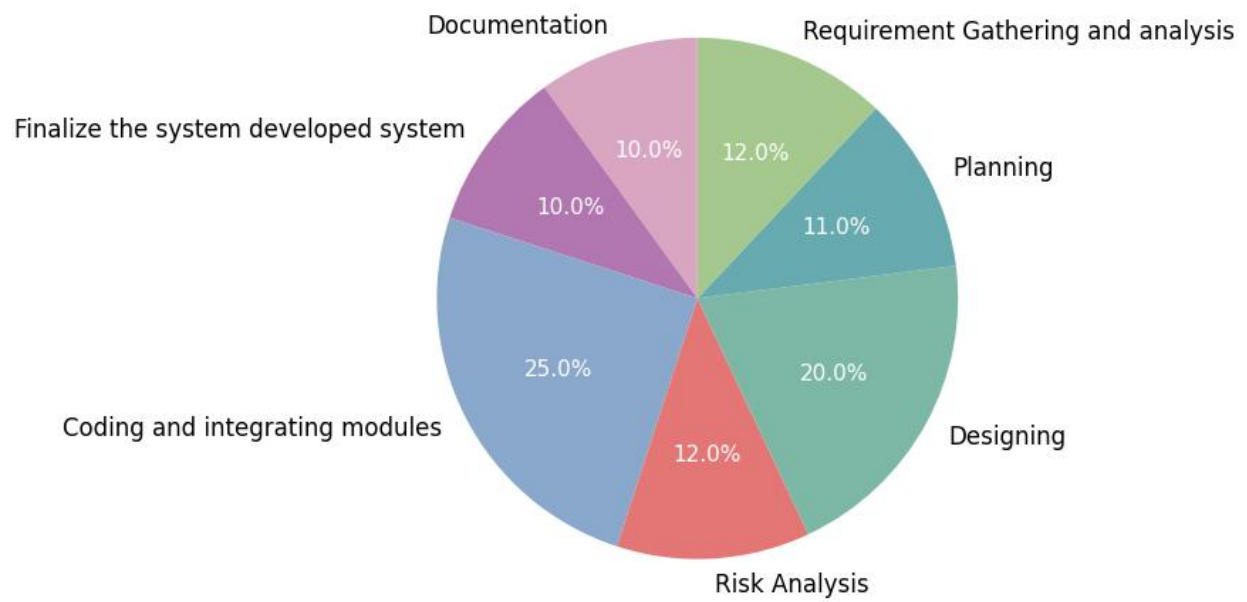

Data Protection and Privacy

Homemade Heaven needs to adopt strong data protection strategies, including secure storage of user credentials, encrypted communications, and limited access to personal data. A clear and transparent Privacy Policy should be defined and shared with users, specifying how data is collected, used, stored, and deleted.

Regulatory Compliance

If Homemade Heaven expands to regions where regulations like GDPR or India's IT Rules apply, a Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) and Risk Assessment must be conducted. This ensures that user rights (like consent, data access, and deletion) are protected and the platform operates within legal frameworks.

4.4 Project Schedule

5. SYSTEM ANALYSIS

System Analysis is an investigation into a problem and how a new system will solve it. It is the most essential part of the development of a project of a system analysis. System analysis consists of system element, process and technology.

System analysis includes the following basic concepts:

- Preliminary investigation
- Requirements specification
- Feasibility study
- Detailed investigation
- Drawing up of strategies
- Design and coding
- Testing and training
- Implementation

5.1 Existing System

Currently, small and home-based businesses often rely on:

1. Offline Selling

Most small sellers promote and sell products locally through word-of-mouth, social circles, or local markets. This limits their customer reach and business growth.

2. Social Media Platforms (e.g., WhatsApp, Instagram, Facebook)

Some sellers use these platforms to showcase products, but they lack proper order management, payment gateways, and inventory control features.

3. Big E-commerce Platforms (e.g., Amazon, Flipkart, Exclusive lane)

These platforms are competitive, costly (commission charges), and difficult for small sellers to manage without technical skills or support.

5.2 Need for the System – Homemade Heaven

1. Dedicated Platform for Small/Home-Based Businesses

There is a strong need for a platform designed especially for local sellers, giving them full control without high fees or complexity.

2. City-Wide Reach Without High Investment

Homemade Heaven helps sellers reach a larger audience without needing a physical store or big marketing budget.

3. Streamlined Selling Process

Sellers can manage product listings, orders, payments, and feedback all in one place—something missing in current systems.

4. Wholesaler Integration

The platform offers a unique feature for wholesalers to place bulk orders, which is not possible on social media or small-scale platforms.

5. Business Growth Tools

AI recommendations, marketing tools, and sales insights help sellers grow their business smarter and faster.

6. Secure and User-Friendly for All Roles

The system is built to be simple for users, sellers, and admins while ensuring secure transactions and data management.

5.3 Software Requirements Specification

5.3.1 Functional Requirements

Functional requirements define what the system should do.

(i) User Registration & Login

- Customers and manufacturers can register and login using username & password.
- Manufacturers must provide additional details like product categories and location.
- Admin has a separate secure login.

(ii) Manufacturer Dashboard

- Add, edit, and delete products
- Manage inventory
- View and fulfill customer orders
- Access sales reports and customer feedback

(iii) Customer Module

- Browse products by category, art type, price, and region
- Add products to cart or wishlist, and place orders
- View order history and current status
- Submit reviews , ratings and Feedback.

(iv) Product Management

- Manufacturers upload product images, descriptions, pricing, and stock details
- Tags for material type, usage, and occasion

(v) Payment Integration

- Online payments through UPI, credit/debit cards, and net banking
- Option for Cash on Delivery (COD)
- Payment confirmation and automatic invoice generation

(vi) Admin Panel

- User Management (Manufacturers, Customers)
- Order, Cart, Payment & Discount Management
- Product, Content & Promotional Control
- Business Insights, Review & Rating Monitoring

5.3.2 Non-Functional Requirements

Non-functional requirements define how the system should behave.

(i) Performance Requirements

- The system should handle 100+ concurrent users
- Load pages within 2-3 seconds
- Product search should respond in under 2 seconds

(ii) Security Requirements

- Passwords must be encrypted (e.g., using bcrypt)
- Secure user authentication and session management
- Secure payment gateway integration
- Role-based access control (Admin, Manufacturer, Customer)

(iii) Availability & Reliability

- System should be available 99% of the time
- Regular backups of user and product data
- Automatic recovery from crashes or failures

(iv) Usability

- Minimal steps to register and place an order
- Accessibility features like alt text and keyboard navigation

(v) Maintainability & Scalability

- Modular codebase for easy maintenance
- Scalable database structure to accommodate increasing products and users
- Easily add new features like coupons, affiliate marketing, etc.

(vi) Compatibility

- Cross-browser compatibility (Chrome, Firefox, Edge, Safari)
- Mobile compatibility (Android & iOS browsers)
- Integrate with 3rd-party delivery APIs (e.g., Shiprocket)

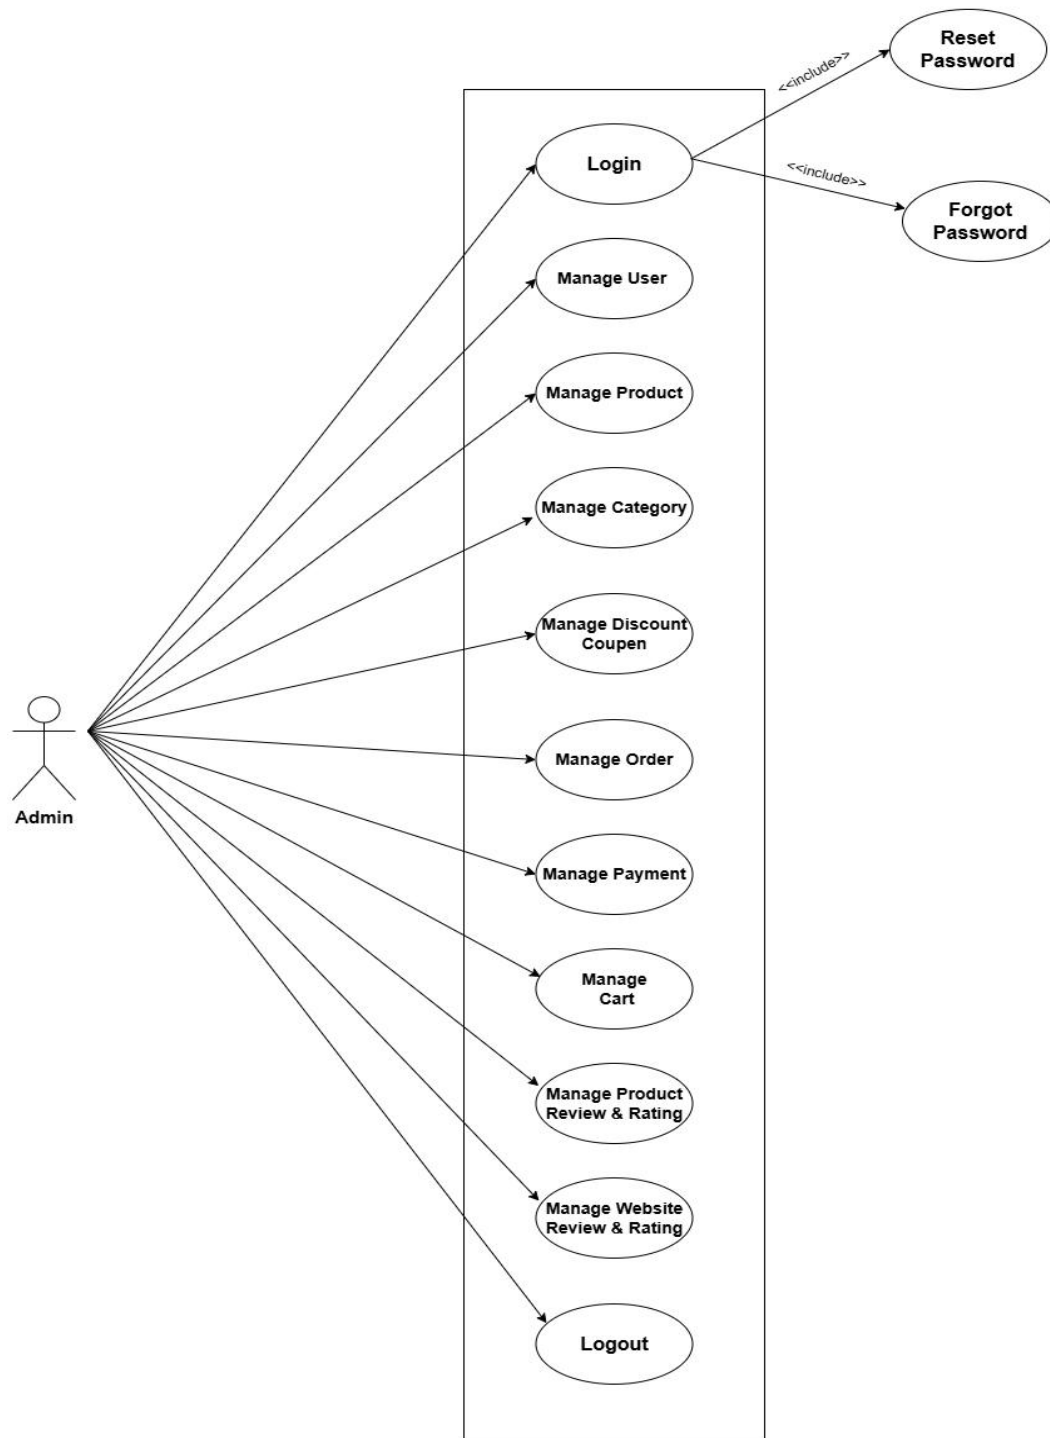

6.SYSTEM DESIGN

System designing in terms of software engineering has its own value and importance in the system development process as a whole. To mention it may though seem as simple as anything or simply the design of systems, but in a broader sense it implies a systematic and rigorous approach to design such a system which fulfills all the practical aspects including flexibility, efficiency and security.

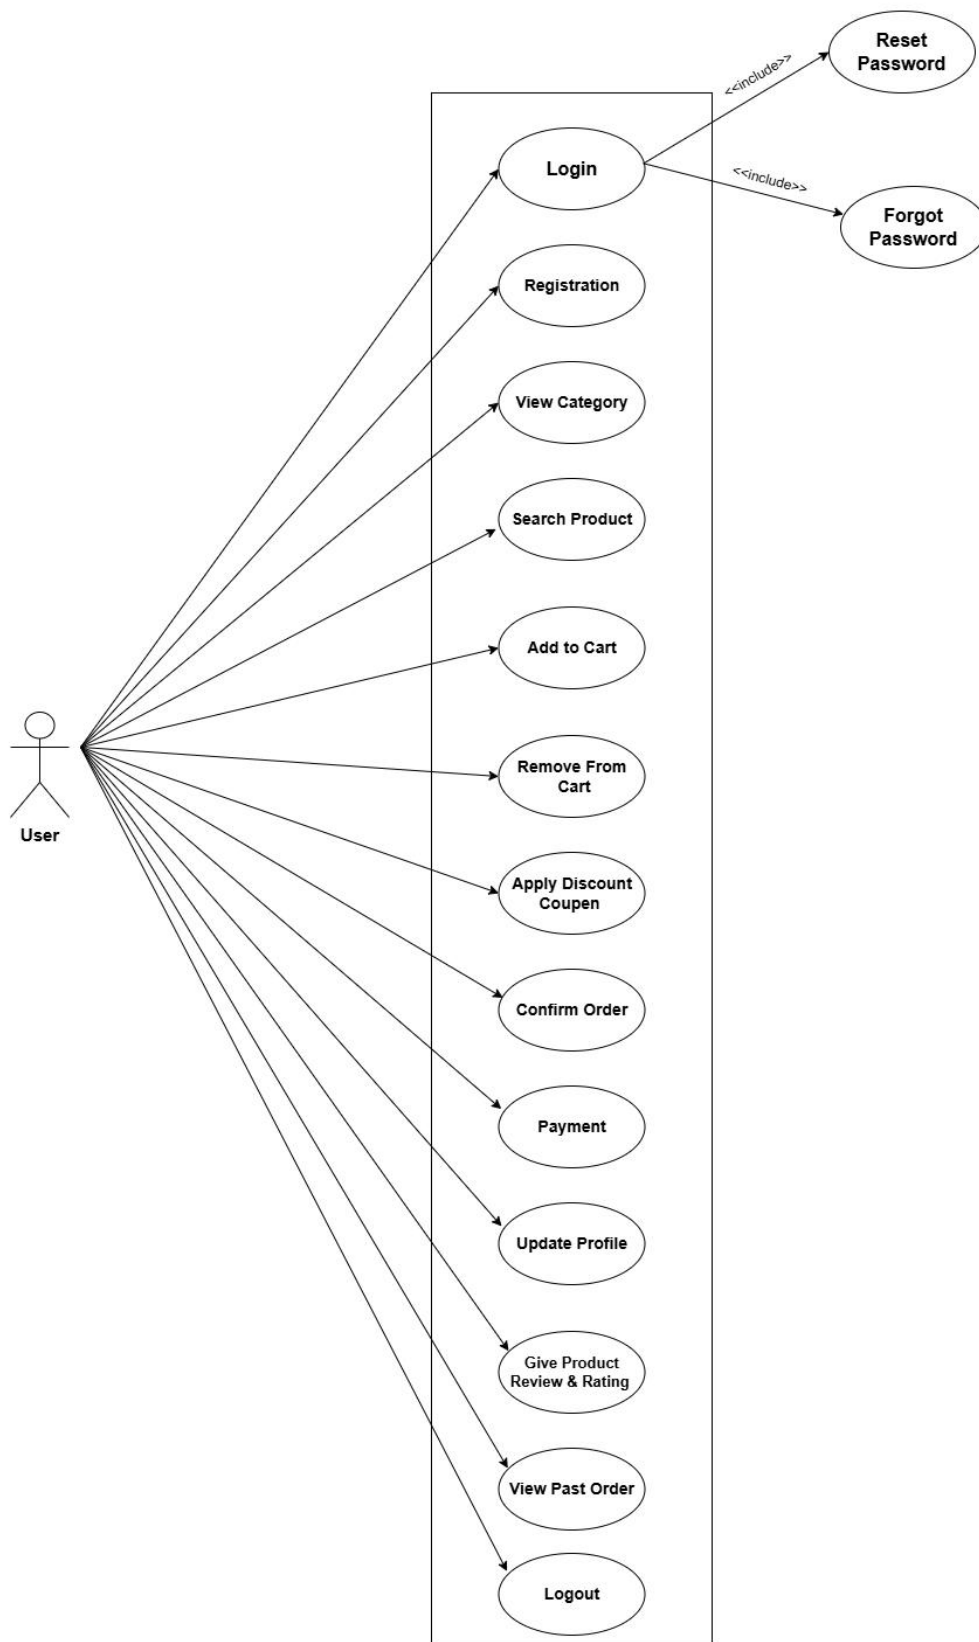

Systems design is the process of defining the architecture, components, modules, interfaces, and data for a system to satisfy specified requirements. System design could be seen as the application of systems theory to product development.

Future enhancement refers to the improvements or additional features that can be added to a project or system after its initial development and deployment. These enhancements aim to increase functionality, improve performance, enhance user experience, or adapt to changing user needs and technologies. They are usually identified based on user feedback, technological advancements, or evolving market trends. Planning for future enhancements ensures the project remains relevant and scalable over time.

1. Service Marketplace Integration

We aim to introduce a service-based section where users can:

- Book local Mehndi Artists, Makeup Artists, Caterers, and Event Decorators
